Joseph Saves His Family

Genesis 37; 39-45

Joseph had eleven brothers, but his father loved him the most. His brothers were jealous of Joseph, so they sold him as a slave in Egypt. God was watching over Joseph, though. One day the king of Egypt had a dream, and no one could tell him what it meant. One of the king's servants knew that God told Joseph the meanings of dreams, so the king told Joseph his dream.

Joseph told the king that his dream meant there would be seven years of plenty, followed by seven years of famine. The king put Joseph in charge of saving up food to prepare for the famine, making him the second most powerful person in Egypt.

When Joseph's family came to Egypt to buy food, he forgave them. "You meant to hurt me," he said, "but God used it for good, to save all your lives and many more."
